

A Review of Spare Change #37

January 2021

$pare change #37

This is the 37th edition of this zine cataloging the punk house Anarchtica in Chattanooga, TN. There is a collection of the posters of the shows held there, interspersed with stories banged out on a typewriter about the trials, tales and tribulations that transpired at what is one of the centers of the Chattanooga punk scene. The stories of the beatific but prideful denizens of a house that seems to border on a squat with its broken pipes, shoddy electricity, and all too frequent police visits are heartfelt, hilarious, and relatable.
