Dear Ms. Mandy,

Thank you for your kind letter dated April 25. You ask whether I write in prison. Indeed I do. You might want to read my book Technological Slavery, published in 2010 ...

... If you do read Technological Slavery and/or Anti-Tech Revolution, I'll be interested to hear your response to them.

You ask whether I need anything. Yes, I do, I need a copy of a book by Michael Williams Deforesting the Earth: From Prehistory to Global Crisis, University of Chicago Press, 2003. ...

But you can probably get a copy more cheaply from amazon.com.

You may also be interested in my new book, Anti-Tech Revolution: Why and How, which should appear within the next few months. For information about it, check the website www.fitchmadison.com, which is not yet functioning but should be up and running within the next 2 or 3 months.

If you do read Technological Slavery and/or Anti-Tech Revolution, I'll be interested to hear your response to them.

Earth: From Prehistory to Global Crisis, University of Chicago Press, 2003. Prisoners here are allowed to receive only books that are sent directly from the publisher or from a bookstore, so you would not be able to send me a book yourself. You can only order a book for me from the publisher or from a bookstore. Internet vendors like Amazon count as bookstores, but Amazon often "outsources" book sales to private individuals, and if a book is sent to me from a private individual I won't be allowed to receive it. So you would need to take care to avoid that problem.

Yours,
Ted Kaczynski
